After you log into your account, click on My PubAlert on the left menu.

In the screen below you will see the results of your latest search. Just click on Show Articles to see the result of that keyword search.

If this is your first time in SRS PubAlert, click on Setup Search Criteria to enter the keyword search terms.

The main content area is divided into two columns. The left column is titled "My Account" and contains links for "My Cart", "My Learning Center", "My PubAlert", "Membership Directory", "Laboratory Directory", "Dissertation Library", "Renew My Membership", and "Log out".

Below you will find the latest search results for the search criteria on file during the most recent search.
Searches are performed every Thursday night, central time zone, and emailed to the address we have on file for you. Please click here if you wish to edit your email address.
You can view the list of journals searched here. If you would like a journal added to this list, please email the SRS Coordinator at coordinator@srsnet.org and we will do our best to accommodate you.
Please click the "Setup Search Criteria" button below to add/edit your article search criteria.

Below this text are four search results, each with a "Show Articles" link:
1. "There were 21 results found matching 'sleep apnea'"
2. "There were 0 results found matching 'insomnia And metabolism'"
3. "There were 0 results found matching 'narcolepsy And circadian'"
4. "There were 5 results found matching 'sleep And neurons'"

At the bottom of the "SRS PubAlert" section is a button labeled "Setup Search Criteria", which is circled in red.

In this screen below you will set up your search terms. There is no limit to the number of search terms you can create. The keywords after each "OR" will be a separate search. Keywords that are NOT separated by "AND" are treated as a single string (e.g. "sleep apnea" is treated as a single string and not two separate words). You must have at least one saved search in order to receive a PubAlert email.

My PubAlert Search Criteria

Please input your search terms in the box(es) below. These terms will be used to search thousands of article titles and filter out the articles to include in your PubAlert email.

Each line of criteria is treated as a separate "category" of articles that you will receive. If you wish to use multiple terms for a "category", simply tap the enter key or click the term in the drop-down window that you have typed to begin writing your next term. Once you are satisfied with your search "category" click on the "Add" button to save.

You will not receive any PubAlert emails until you set up a search category. If you no longer wish to receive PubAlert emails, just remove all of the search categories.

Criteria

- OR sleep apnea
- OR insomnia AND metabolism
- OR narcolepsy AND circadian
- OR sleep AND neurons
- OR
